

Track-A-Life Programme Introductory Profile

Known as Farhan or JJ ? Birthday – 12th November 1994 ? Favourite Colour – Red
Favourite Food – Chicken Rice ? Hobbies – Soccer

Background

We met JJ about a year ago when he brought his younger brother for a pre-school programme at our Centre. Everyday, he would simply sit nearby watching the children play.

After talking to him, we found out that he was looked after by his grandfather and that he rarely attended school. We then enrolled him in Kids United, our daily care and guidance programme. Since then, we have highlighted to him that he is always keen to learn and so with sufficient effort, he should be able to catch up with his peers in his schoolwork.

JJ is a quiet boy and we think this is because he has never had much interaction with his peers. By exposing him to team sports, we hope he will become more confident in his interaction with others.

Challenges He Faces

- To improve in his studies and catch up with his peers
- To be more confident in interacting with people.

Our Plan for JJ

- We are preparing JJ to pass his PSLE examinations as we feel he has the potential to do so and this would also give his confidence a big boost.
